STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Unparliamentary Language)

Members are well aware that it is not permissible to accuse or suggest that another member was not being truthful. This practice is codified in our Rule 50(f), in paragraph 484(3) of Beauchesne's Parliamentary Rules and Forms, 6th Edition and on page 618 of The House of Commons Procedure and Practice, 2nd Edition, 2009.

After reviewing the record, from yesterday's Question Period, I wish to highlight two matters that affect the ability of Members to engage in respectful and dignified debates in this Assembly.

First, I would like to address the point of order raised by the Opposition House Leader (Mr. Yates). The statement at issue relates to the truthfulness of Members. It was made by the Premier and directed at the Member from Prince Albert Northcote (Mr. Furber). At page 4472 of Hansard the Premier states that the Member was providing information that was "not completely the truth".

In this Assembly, many Speakers have ruled that the integrity of Members should not be questioned and the imputations of intentional falsehoods are not permissible. (November 4, 2008, May 15, 2008, December 20, 2007, March 26, 2001, May 11, 2000, April 29, 1999, May 27, 1998) These rulings are further supported by The House of Commons Practice and Procedure Second Edition, 2009 at page 618 which states:

The proceedings of the House are based on a long-standing tradition of respect for the integrity of all Members. Thus, the use of offensive, provocative or threatening language in the House is strictly forbidden. Personal attacks, insults and obscenities are not in order. A direct charge or accusation against a Member may be made only by way of a substantive motion for which notice is required.

In his point of order the Opposition House Leader suggested that the Premier had called into question the character of the Member and suggested that Members of the Opposition were not being truthful.

On this note, I would like to remind Members that last week on March 17, 2010 the Leader of the Opposition apologized to the Assembly for implying that a Minister was not being truthful. In addition, on November 16, 2009 I ruled a Member out of order who implied that a Member was not being truthful.

I find that the statement by the Premier questioned the honesty of a Member of this Assembly and ask the Premier to apologize and withdraw his remarks.

The second point raised by the Opposition House Leader relates to allegations that Members are under investigation. I have some concerns relating to the insinuations made this week by Members from both sides of the Assembly. Once again previous Speakers have ruled on April 11, 2007 and May 12, 2000 that Members should be cautious in how allegations are phrased. Attacks on the integrity of Members and the impugning of inappropriate activity are not in order. These types of allegations only create disorder.

I appreciate that it is not always possible to prepare in advance every remark or intervention that is to be made in the Assembly. Indeed, often the most effective and compelling debates occur when Members passionately and forcefully present their positions. Nevertheless, I do wish to caution Members on their choice of language. I would like to remind Members that personal attacks only incite others and bring down the level of debate. Challenging the position of another Member is acceptable. Questioning their character is not. A personal charge or accusation against another Member may only be done by way of a substantive motion.

Thereupon the Premier withdrew his remarks and apologized.
