SPEAKER TABLES REPORT

The Speaker laid before the Assembly the following:

Report of the Provincial Auditor (Acting) on the 2009 Financial Statements of Crown Agencies, dated May 2010, in accordance with section 14 of The Provincial Auditor Act 2009.

(Sessional Paper No. 612)

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER
(Privilege – May 4, 2010)

Yesterday, the Opposition House Leader (Mr. Yates) gave notice of a question of privilege. The notice concerned responses by the Minister of Health (Mr. McMorris) made during Question Period on April 12, 2010, about proposed regulations under The Health Information Protection Act. Members will recall yesterday I requested that the Opposition House Leader provide me with the details of his case in writing. Following adjournment of the Assembly I received written information for which I thank the Opposition House Leader. Details of the case were provided to the Government House Leader, in accordance with Rule 12(2). Both house leaders also provided comments about the case when the Opposition House Leader was invited to state his case, on Orders of the Day. I want to reiterate that I allowed the case to be made without notice given the circumstance of the extended sitting hours then in operation.

The Opposition House Leader's case is that the Minister of Health committed contempt by purposefully misleading the Assembly about consultations that were said to have taken place with the Information and Privacy Commissioner.

In Question Period on April 12, 2010, the Minister said, in responding to a question, "the Privacy Commissioner was consulted formally four different times on this very regulation, Mr. Speaker and yes we know his opinions on this regulation as did the former government know his opinions as they worked through this regulation over the last four years of their mandate." To refute this claim, the Opposition House Leader provided a letter from the Information and Privacy Commissioner that he argues demonstrates, "The Minister of Health clearly misled this Assembly."

The charge that a member has made deliberately misleading statements, if well-founded, has been treated as contempt by this Legislative Assembly and other parliaments. On November 3, 2009, I addressed another case of alleged contempt for misleading statements. In that case I referenced precedents that established differences in the way such cases are treated in Saskatchewan compared to other jurisdictions. I will not repeat those precedents except to say they are dated November 18, 1975 and July 13, 1982. These precedents established that in Saskatchewan, the threshold of proof of an offence is not restricted to an admission of guilt. Contempt has been found on the basis of evidence. In this situation the minister has not admitted to have misled the Assembly so the case must be reviewed on the documentary evidence provide by the Opposition House Leader.

The evidence provided by the Opposition House Leader is two letters: one addressed to the Leader of the Opposition and another addressed to all members of the Assembly. The letter to the Leader of the Opposition is in response to queries made on April 14, 2010, in regard to the exchange in Question Period about regulations two days earlier. In this letter the Commissioner states that rather than respond to him directly he has decided to respond to all members and to publish a report on the regulations. Of material importance to this case is the letter to all members, which is dated Monday May 3, 2010.

The letter begins with the following statement:

"On April 12, 2010, the Minister of Health (the Minister) made reference in the Legislative Assembly (the Assembly) to the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner (OIPC) in the course of discussing the new Health Information Protection Amendment Regulations 2010 (Order in Council 187/2010) (the Regulations). In addition, I have now received a request from a member of the Legislative Assembly (MLA) for written documentation on any verbal or written consultation I have conducted with the Minister, or his representatives, regarding the disclosure of patient's health information to a third party.

I have determined that the most appropriate way to respond to certain statements made by the Minister on April 12, 2010 and the query for information from another MLA, would be through this letter to all MLAs.”

On page six of the letter the commissioner addresses the question about consultations he or his office has had with the minister or the Ministry of Health. For the record, I will quote the first four paragraphs of the letter because they are at the heart of this case:

“The new Regulation is similar to the 2007 iteration. There is a significant change, however, in the new Regulation in the substitution of “personal health information” for “any information about a client’s health care or state of health” in subsection (7). The statutory definition of personal health information is much broader.

I had not seen the new Regulation until a copy was emailed to my office at my request on April 13, 2010 at 2:47 p.m. by Saskatchewan Health.

I have not received any draft documentation with respect to the type of contract that Saskatchewan Health will be introducing pursuant to subsection 7.1(1)(i) or (8) of the Regulation. In my view, Saskatchewan Health should have completed those pieces and made them available for public comment prior to proclamation of the subject Regulation.

In summary, for my office, there was only the public consultation in 2004, the exchange of correspondence in 2006 and a further exchange of correspondence in June 2007. I am not aware of any other formal consultation on the matter of a fundraising Regulation under HIPA. I also wish to stress that, in each of the three consultations, the text upon which I was commenting was different; none of the three consultations involved text identical to Order in Council 187/2010 although the 2007 consultation text was very similar but for one significant difference.”

I repeat what the minister said in Question Period on April 12, 2010.

“The Privacy Commissioner was consulted formally four different times on this very regulation, Mr. Speaker and yes we know his opinions on this regulation as did the former government know his opinions as they worked through this regulation over the last four years of their mandate.”

The Commissioner states in his letter that the regulations being proposed are significantly different than those proposed in the past. He states he only saw the regulations in question for the first time on April 13, 2010, one day after the exchange in Question Period. This is three years after the last consultation the Commissioner says he had with the Ministry.

It is not common for an Independent Officer of this Assembly to respond in such a direct and formal way to statements made in proceedings. It is apparent from the letter, that the Commissioner had been consulted but not about the regulations recently put into existence by the Order in Council noted. It is also apparent that the Commissioner was consulted but between 2004 and 2007, on regulations which had in his words significant differences.

If the regulations are indeed significantly different, the Speaker wonders how the Minister can claim the Commissioner was consulted. The distinct impression left by the comments by the Minister is that the regulations in question are, to use the Ministers words, the very regulations provided to the Commissioner. The Speaker also wonders why if consultations had taken place on these regulations the Commissioner states he first saw them on April 13, 2010.

Because of these troubling questions and inconsistencies, I find there is sufficient evidence and reason to warrant the Assembly taking up this question, and as such find that a prima facie case has been established.

I remind Members that it is not the role of the Speaker to decide if contempt has been committed. This is a question that only the Assembly can decide. It is the Speaker's role to decide whether a prima facie case has been established. I have determined that there is sufficient reason to merit setting aside the regular business of the Assembly to debate the matter. I now invite the Opposition House Leader to put forward his motion so that the Assembly can decide whether or not contempt has been committed.

Moved by Mr. Yates, pursuant to Rule 12(4):

That, be it resolved that the Standing Committee on Privileges be instructed to examine the issue of the statements made to this Assembly by the Minister of Health on April 12, 2010 and report back to the Assembly and that, until such time that the committee reports, the Minister of Health shall be removed from his position as a minister.

The Assembly recessed from 5:00 p.m. until 7:00 p.m.

The debate continuing, the Speaker interrupted proceedings pursuant to Rule 12(5) and put the question on the motion, which was negated on the following Recorded Division:

NOTICE OF MOTION FOR A SEVENTY-FIVE MINUTE DEBATE

On Thursday:

Ms. Schriemer to move the following motion:
