

----- Original Message -----

From: E & J Janzen

To: suma@suma.org

Sent: Monday, April 22, 2013 11:16 AM

Subject: daylight running lights

We have many laws to protect the "other vehicle" on the road. All vehicles come with daylight running lights and in general we have come to depend on the extra visibility they provide to oncoming traffic. But there are always a few vehicles that have been tampered or adjusted so the lights are not on. It is frightening when a vehicle suddenly shows up without the lights. Can there be a law passed so that it is mandatory to have working daytime lights and so those who undo the automatic feature to turn on the lights are charged and fined for driving on public roads without them. I am sure this could save us from some accidents.

Your truly

Jeanette Janzen
Hague, Sask.

No virus found in this message.

Checked by AVG - www.avg.com

Version: 2013.0.2890 / Virus Database: 2638/6027 - Release Date: 01/12/13

Internal Virus Database is out of date.